Since becoming fully regulated following the enactment of the Gambling Act 2005, online gambling has steadily grown in the UK, with sports betting, online casinos, and bingo each being widely available.

As of 2021, it's reported that there are over 2,439 gambling operators in the UK market, the vast majority of which offer iGaming services.

This is the give and take inside a highly-regulated environment.

The ease for underaged users to claim to be adults is quite high, so it is clear as to why we witnessed the introduction of regulations bringing in ID verification and other anti-underaged gambling tools.

Key regulations are outlined on the Gambling Commission's website, as well as the Gambling Act 2005.

On one hand, both are more protected, with underaged or at-risk users having a more difficult time being able to gamble.

With every customer having to be verified upon signup before they can place a deposit, it will be in every operator's best interest to make the process as quick and painless as possible.

If you want to enhance your onboarding process and reach compliance in a range of markets, Autolent will get you there in no time.

Since we are located in the EUROPEAN UNION and your selected shipping destination does not belong to it, you might have to clear this shipment upon arrival.

How does that work?

In general you should receive an email notification from one of our main shipping carriers (such as FedEx, UPS or DHL) meanwhile your order is on its way.

(In general within 24-48 hours during weekdays after you have placed your order) Tj T* BT

Please follow the instructions on that email (if any) and you should receive your order delivered at your door without any delays.

In random cases, you might be required to deal with your local customs clearance office direct but in general there should be no need for that and our shipping carriers will take care of that on your behalf. Please note:

Since every country's (local) customs rules and procedures could be slightly
