Love this app because it SHUFFLES (not after each hand)!! I have no idea how many decks but it at least allows me a beautiful and fun setting to practice and I just assume it's 6 or eight decks based on the amount of hands dealt. Also, the way the emoticons pop up after every hand encourages use and I have found it to be a very good stress reliever.

Vegas needs to add Emoticon buttons to their slots and video poker. Also, I play pretty low amounts but WOW! They give away bonus money like no other app I have tried! I like having a big bank, it makes me feel like I can always play if I want to.

Last but not least is the AMAZING DOUBLE PAY!!! when the tube fills up and goes from blue to red it pays the next hand DOUBLE!!! Only pay, not take so I find myself watching it and the anticipation builds then it's really exciting to up my bet and see what happens.

I hate to admit this, but it even softens my anger a little toward people who split tens! Crazy, I would pay for another single or double deck to be added to this app if it shuffles after 70% penetration (Please make one)

Thank you thank you thank you!!!

Monday Night Football Matchup

The Jets strike me as the type of team that will take some time to get going.

Now, White is fully healthy, which will make a major impact on the team's pass defense.

I'm betting that the Jets will take some time to start clicking on offense, which bodes well for the Under 47 points in this one.

We've got two great defenses here, so taking the Under 47 points looks like the prudent play.

I'm betting that the Jets will struggle to score points in Rodgers' debut with the team.

Monday Night Football Same-Game Parlay

The Wolverines were favored by 18 over the Spartans.

With just 24 hours to go (as of this writing) before kickoff, the maize and blue are favored by 22.
