We don't expect that at the start of the week, however, as the undefeated Eagles face the Texans on Thursday Night Football.

Game Spread Philadelphia Eagles at Houston Texans PHI -13 Minnesota Vikings at Washington Commanders MIN -3 Carolina Panthers at Cincinnati Bengals CIN -7 Los Angeles Chargers at Atlanta Falcons LAC -3 Green Bay Packers at Detroit Lions GB -3.

5 Las Vegas Raiders at Jacksonville Jaguars LV -2 Seattle Seahawks at Arizona Cardinals AZ -2 Tennessee Titans at Kansas City Chiefs KC -12.

As long as the total does not move up considerably during the week, the OVER is a good bet.

Meanwhile, Tennessee is coming into this game on a five-game winning streak and defeating teams by an average of 5.

The Titans will look to have Ryan Tannehill back after he missed last week's game because of an ankle injury, but if he's out, rookie Malik Willis, who attempted just 10 passes in his starting debut, will be back under center.

This game should be close, as indicated by the spread, which leans toward Arizona (-2.) Tj T* BT /F1 12 Tf 50 416 Td (5).
