A company named Microgaming came into being. Back then when it was launched, Microgaming didn't have a big budget or a large team, but it had the dedication to become the creator of the first-ever fully operational online casino in the world.

The platform it launched was quite different from the top-rated online gaming venues we see today.

However, it completely revolutionized the gambling world as it gave gamblers an opportunity to indulge in their favorite casino games from within the comfort of their living rooms, at a time when people were still new to the World Wide Web.

One major event that can be attributed to the creation of online casino industry is 'The Free Trade and Processing Act' which was implemented by the Antigua and Barbuda government in the year 1994.

In less than a year's time, in 1995, another company named Cryptologic which specialized in actual money transactions on the Internet, was launched.

A good number of casinos emerged leading up to the turn of the millennium.
