The Washington legislature legalized sports betting in March 2020 with a bill au thorizing tribal casinos to launch retail sportsbooks under the authority of the Washing Gambling Commission.

A Washington State University study conducted in late 2021 estimated the state&#

39;s retail sports betting industry is on track to become a $94 million industry over the next five years. Some of the biggest daily fantasy sports sites accepted residents from Washingt on up until 2014. However, bracket pools, office sports pools, and fantasy sports have never been authorized as gambling activities in Washington State and are illegal. The passage of this bill was alarming for the online poker community at the time because the law made it a Class C felony to participate in any form of unauthor ized wagering over the internet.

Social gambling is permitted under Washington law as long as the players compete
